BERLIN, March 23 (INS)—A new situation arose in troubled Central Europe today when Hungarian troops occupied several towns in eastern Slovakia, according to word received in Berlin from Pressburg (Bratislava), Slovakian capital.

The official German news agency DNB circulated an official announcement from Pressburg to the effect that Hungarian troops had occupied the towns of Ulic, Kalna, Koztoka and Fekisovce.

Previously, Exchange Telegraph, in dispatches from Prague and Copenhagen, stated "considerable Hungarian forces" had crossed the border and "invaded" Slovakia.

A Reuter dispatch to London from Berlin revealed that latest reports in German political circles indicate that the Hungarian incursion into Slovakia is more serious and far-reaching than first believed.

LONDON, March 23 (INS)—Fighting at three points where Hungarian troops crossed the Slovak frontier was reported in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Berlin today. Slovak troops had been ordered to resist the invaders, reports said.

BUDAPEST, March 23 (AP)—Hungarian troops moved into Slovakia today at several points along the Slovakia-Carpatho-Ukraine frontier, said reliable reports from that region, and diplomatic quarters heard Hungary was occupying Slovakia on Germany's invitation.

The reports supported belief among foreign diplomats that Adolf Hitler, protector of Slovakia since last week's absorption of Czechoslovakia, had adopted a policy of encouraging Hungarian expansion to build up a powerful ally in central Europe.

'World Can't Stop Us!' Hitler Tells Memel; Hints He'll Rest

By PIERRE J. HUSS

International News Service Staff Correspondent

MEMEL, Germany, March 23—Nazi Germany's firm determination to work out its own destiny "whether the rest of the world likes it or not" was proclaimed by Adolf Hitler today as he arrived to take personal possession of the latest territorial acquisition of the Third Reich.

'NAPOLEON'S FATE HITLER'S'—BRITAIN

LONDON, March 23 (INS)—Adolf Hitler was warned bluntly by Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain today that he faces the same fate as Napoleon if he seeks to dominate Europe by force of arms.

Addressing the House of Commons, the prime minister expressed regret that he could not make a full statement, but added:

"Were it proved correct that Germany is attempting to dominate Europe, His Majesty's government would feel bound to say that, as similar attempts have done in the past, this would result in successful resistance by this and other countries who prize freedom."

In his brief statement, the prime minister gave a clue to the difficult course being followed by his government in the present tangled European situation.

BULLETIN

LONDON, March 23 (AP)—Soviet Russia notified Great Britain today she would sign a British-sponsored declaration for immediate consultation among interested powers in event of possible German aggression.

A Soviet embassy spokesman said Foreign Commissar Litvinoff had announced his nation's decision in Moscow to Sir William Seeds, British ambassador. The spokesman declared Russia still stood by her insistence on an eventual conference.

"I wish to make clear," he said, "that there is no desire on the part of His Majesty's Government to establish in Europe opposing blocs of countries with different ideas about the forms of their internal administration."

"We are solely concerned with the proposition that we cannot submit to a procedure under which independent states are subjected to such pressure under threat of force as they are obliged to yield up their independence."

"We are resolved by all means in our power to oppose attempts to put such a procedure into operation."

Speaking to a huge enthusiastic throng from the balcony of a theater overlooking Memel's main square, Hitler made it clear that no objections from abroad will swerve Germany from its path of aggrandizement.

It was his first public utterance since he began again to reshape the map of Europe early this month by establishing a protectorate over Bohemia and Moravia.

'INTENDS NO HARM'

"We do not intend to harm anyone," he said. "Our sole aim is to right the wrongs that have long been done us."

"I believe that this has now been accomplished and that we have reached the end of this particular chapter."

In the name of the German people and of the Third Reich, Hitler "welcomed back into greater Germany" the people of Memel, who since the World War had been under Lithuanian rule.

"During this long period," Hitler said, "you did not forget Germany, nor did we forget you."

MASTER OF DESTINY

"For this I, the Fuehrer, in the name of the people of greater Germany, thank you."

"You have come back into the German Reich which now and forever intends to be the master of its own destiny, determined to

HEROIC MOTHER TELS OWN STORY OF FACING DEATH

Courage and modesty—twin virtues . . .

There was a time when two cars crashed and one hurtled out of nowhere to menace her children, and she hurled her body before it. And there were many times when friends, relatives, newspapers sought to pay adequate tribute for such heroism. But she would have none of it.

Today, for the first time, weeks after the accident which sent her to the hospital, and left her there, hovering between death and life, Mrs. Helen R. Steele, 27, of Harvard street, Cambridge, has consented to tell her own story. More, she has consented to pose for her picture only because reporters convinced her that all readers of the Boston Evening American ought to have visual evidence of what stuff such heroism is made.

RETELS STORY

First, to retell the story of the accident:

It happened last January 17. She was out for an airing, pushing the baby carriage in which rode her 4-months-old daughter, Dorothy Ann. She held Allan, her son, 4 by the hand. As they approached Norfolk street, at the intersection with Harvard, there was a sudden collision. A milk truck, driven by Carl H. Thomas, of Forest street, Medford, and a light sedan, driven by Mrs. Frances Bernstein, 21, of Hancock street, Everett, had collided.

"Mrs. Steele now tells the story: 'I don't remember the crash very distinctly. All I know is I heard the shock of the two cars coming together. Then I looked up and saw the sedan coming toward me.

ACTION ON INSTINCT

"I knew it was going to hit me. I didn't think I didn't have time. I just acted on instinct. 'I pushed Allan ahead. Then I saw the car would hit the baby carriage, so I threw myself in front of it. I didn't know whether it would do any good, but I threw myself away.'

That's the story. She didn't know whether it would do any good, but she threw herself away.

Allan, pushed ahead to safety, was uninjured.

He remembers vividly what happened, and with luck he'll remember it all his life—how his mother was willing to give her life to save his, and that of his baby sister.

The baby carriage was rolled turned over, and the baby, Dorothy Ann, was thrown out. Wrapped in a blanket, she, too, was uninjured.

SHOWED GREAT COURAGE

The mother, unconscious, lay still on the pavement.

Taken to the Cambridge City Hospital it was found that her skull was fractured. For days weeks, she was on the danger list. But it was, provisionally, a good fracture, one that knitted easily. Today she is completely well, with none of the after effects that might follow such an injury.

"Look at that baby," she says, "look at her. Why I'd do anything for her. Do you wonder?"

Her husband, Wilfred, works in a nearby grocery, and he, after weeks of worry, smiles happily. It's all over. She is home.

There isn't much to say, after all. Courage and modesty. Courage to risk her life for her little ones. Modesty, which forbade until today, her even speaking of what has happened. So in her glittering clean home she speaks at last, and her final words are:

"I'd do it all over again for my babies."

Corrections Commissioner Arthur T. Lyman today charged there was "a double shakedown" in the recent pardon of John Tartar, South End sweetheart murderer, as plans went forward for a wholesale legislative probe into a possible Massachusetts "pardon mill."

HINES, GANG PROTECTOR, GETS 4 TO 8 YEARS IN JAIL

NEW YORK, March 23—Tammany Leader James J. Hines stood pale and motionless in a general sessions court room today as Judge Charles C. Nott, Jr., sentenced him to from four to eight years in prison for his part in the $20,000,000-a-year policy racket. With time off for good behavior, Hines' time behind the bars would be two years and 290 days. This would bring Judge Knott refused a motion, opposed by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, for continuance of the $20,000 bail on which Hines has been at liberty and also declined to parole the defendant in the custody of his attorney over the weekend.

The silver-haired, 62-year-old Hines had been convicted by Dewey as the paid protector and "fixer" for the late "Dutch" Schultz's mob which ran the racket into a gigantic enterprise. Dewey charged Hines used his influence with the police and city magistrates.

Since fell across the courtroom as the rangy, athletic Hines walked to a railing before the bench, gripping it with both of his powerful hands.

HINES PALE

The defendant's light blue eyes peered through horn-rimmed spectacles at the stern faced judge. Pale as chalk, Hines' poker-face maintained its impassiveness and he was silent as judgment was pronounced.

"If it were not for your age," said Judge Nott, in passing sentence, "I would not be so lenient with you. The evidence showed you were paid at least $30,000 annually to protect this vicious racket."

"The Schultz mob, which operated for three or four years, took hundreds of thousands of dollars out of the pockets of people in the most poverty-stricken section of New York.

"The mob which conducted this policy racket used force and violence and held out inducements to certain persons to join with them in the crime.

"Their activities finally resulted in the murder of Dutch Schultz and some of his lieutenants.

"The whole thing was a blot on our city.

"This defendant was asked to aid the gang. The defendant accepted. Instead of using his powerful political influence for good he used it in behalf of the gang. He got $500 a week and 'extra' his part was to afford protection—working on police officials and city magistrates."

ISSUES WARNING

"If there is any interference with any fitness in this case, I shall take the matter up with the parole board and request that the defendant serve the maximum."

A broad hint that some of Dewey's witnesses may have jeopardized their lives by testifying against the dethroned political chieftain came from the district attorney.

With Hines as Judge Nott passed sentence, were his three husky sons, Philip James, Jr., and Eugene. Only a short time before, word was brought to him of the death yesterday of his sister.

Defense Counsel Lloyd Paul Stryker made two routine motions to dismiss. Both were denied. He announced that an appeal will be made.

Under the court's ruling, Hines must go to Tombs prison, but until the matter of his bond is settled, pending the appeal—he will not be obliged to go to state prison.

J. Richard (Dixie) Davis, lawyer for the Dutch Schultz mob, and "Big Harry" Schoenhaut, payoff man, named as fellow conspirators of Hines, were sentenced yesterday.

Davis was given a year, and Schoenhaut, a suspended sentence with two years' probation.

The startling charge came as members of the powerful legislative rules committee revealed they were "about ready" to approve a bill for investigation of scores of pardons granted in recent years, and were awaiting a decision on its form and scope.

At the same time, a nation-wide hunt was ordered for two recently pardoned convicts, Tartar and Charles Lyman, Brighton bandit.

Pardons of both were revoked by Governor Saltonstall, together with that of Harry "Snake" Baker, Worcester murderer, who now is serving sentence in Texas.

As the legislative probe was speeded, Commissioner Lyman asserted that "apparently there was a double shakedown" of Tartar's two brothers in obtaining the pardon granted last November.

"DOUBLE SHAKEDOWN"

"This case has given me more trouble and more to think about than any case that ever was before me, as there was apparently a double shakedown on Tartar's two brothers to get him out," the commissioner said.

"It's a shame, because they are both comparatively poor men."

Commissioner Lyman had conferred with the two brothers, George and Nicholas Tartar, operators of a South End cafe, within a few hours after John Tartar's

JUSTICE BUTTRICK SUCCEEDS MORTON

Governor Saltonstall today named his close friend for years—Justice Allan G. Buttrick of Clinton court—to fill the superior court vacancy created by the death of Judge Marcus Morton.

The nomination was submitted to the executive council at a special session, but under the law appointments to the judiciary must hold over for one week for action.

It was Governor Saltonstall's first judicial appointment since he took office.

HAS LONG EXPERIENCE

Judge Buttrick is 43 and, although presiding at Clinton, is no stranger to the superior court bench. He has presided over many jury trials in Suffolk, Norfolk, Middlesex, Essex and Worcester counties when dockets were heavy.

The jurist was born at Fitchburg on March 16, 1876, the son of Daniel and Sarah P. Wood. His mother died when he was but two years old and he was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. George F. Buttrick of Lancaster.

For 30 years he resided in Lancaster, being graduated from high school there in 1892. A year later he entered the law office of Charles G. Bancroft and studied law.

In 1894 he entered Boston University and was graduated in 1897, rejoining Attorney Bancroft in Clinton the following September.

SERVED IN LEGISLATURE

He was elected to the House in 1904, and in 1906 and 1907 he represented the Second Worcester District in the Senate.

He was appointed a special justice of Clinton court in 1912, and 12 years later became presiding justice of the district court division of superior court, which has given him nearly 14 years' experience.

Judge Buttrick is a 32nd degree Mason and has been active for years in several Scottish Rite organizations.

Civil Service Shift Proposed

A far reaching amendment to the Massachusetts civil service laws, carrying stricter residence limitations for applicants for state and municipal jobs, was proposed today by Associate Civil Service Commissioner Louis F. Cappelle.

Under his plan applicants for civil service positions would be restricted to persons who had been citizens of the United States and had lived in this state six years with one year's residence in the city in which the person seeks employment.

Under present rules persons who have lived in the state for a year and in the city where they seek employment for six months are eligible to take a civil service examination.

Racket-Buster Breaks Up This Chat, and How!

Captain James T. Sheehan, Boston police department's one-time "racket buster," turned "table buster" today in Suffolk Superior Criminal Court.

Chatting with Assistant District Attorney Edward M. Sullivan and John McAuliffe, during a recess, Sheehan leaned his six-foot-three inch bulk on a flat-topped legal table.

Sullivan and McAuliffe were already sitting on the table—and Captain Sheehan's added weight collapsed it with a crash!

The two lawyers and the stalwart police official sprawled headlong in the wreckage.

A pitcher of ice water drenched Captain Sheehan, Attorney McAuliffe and Attorney Sullivan—the latter in a brand new suit—were tents of an inkwell.

Nimble-tongued Clerk of Court John Casey summarized the situation aptly:

"The government rests," he announced.

R. I. Truck War Spreads to Mass.

Fears that the Rhode Island truck strike may paralyze motor transportation throughout central and southern New England increased today when drivers for four Worcester and Taunton concerns joined the walk-out movement.

Truck drivers' locals in key Massachusetts cities, including Springfield, New Bedford, Fitchburg, Lowell and Lawrence, expected momentarily to receive word to join the strike.

At midnight, three of the largest truck concerns linking Taunton and Worcester with Hartford, New Haven and New York, ceased operating because more than 800 Connecticut drivers failed to report for work.

Woman Killed In 3-Story Fall

Mrs. Florence Lambert, 48, was killed today when she plunged from the roof of a three-story building, 100 W. Washington street, South End, lodging house.

Her acquaintances in the rooming house could give no reason for the accident. Police said they found the door of her bedroom locked from the inside.

$75,000 Congress Street Blaze Routs 50 Persons; Fireman Hurt

One fireman was injured and more than 50 persons were driven from the six-story brick building at 351 Congress street today by a four-alarm fire that swept through all six stories.

The fire, which caused an estimated damage of $75,000, started in the second floor, occupied by the D. W. Gerard Company wool sorting plant.

James Murphy, 39, of Hancock street, Dorchester, a machine operator, saw flames leap in the cotton blending section of the plant, shouted to fellow workers, then ran to the elevator boy and told him to sound the alarm.

FIRE SPREADS SWIFTLY

Almost directly across the street is the house of Engines 38 and 39, and when the apparatus was rolled out it was seen that the flames and thick smoke had swept rapidly through the building.

A second alarm was sounded at once. This was followed, within minutes, by a third and a fourth alarm. 49 pieces of apparatus responding in all.

On the top floor when the fire started were Joseph Milano, owner of the Milano Tanning Company, and five of his employees. So rapidly did the flames and smoke spread that Milano and the other five barely had time to race down the stairway.

His employees included Salvatore Costa of Paris street, East Boston; Donald King of Prince street, North End; James Abruzzese, Saratoga street, East Boston, and Frank LaCourt, Lexington street, East Boston.

FIREMAN IS INJURED

On the first floor are the establishments of the Achorn Steel Company and Marshall & Company, electrical supplies. Workers here fled without trouble.

Other firing in the building include the Green Point Metallic Bed Company, the Boston Rubber Mat Company and the Cork Insulating Company.

The only person reported injured was Ladderman Philip O'Farrell of Ladder 8, who suffered cuts on both hands from falling glass.

When the multiple alarms were sounded, nearly 100 police were rushed to the fire scene at Congress and A streets, just across the bridge over Fort Point channel.

Police took over the task of keeping thousands of spectators back of the fire lines, and even the Summer street bridge, an excellent vantage point, was jammed, with traffic slowed considerably.

Fire Commissioner William Arthur Reilly and Fire Chief Samuel J. Pope responded on the fourth alarm, while Police Superintendent Edward W. Fallon also went to the scene.

Chief Pope gave a tentative cause of the fire as "spontaneous ignition."

Dr. Browne, Harvard's Oldest Alumnus, Dies

Dr. John Kittredge Browne of 138 Hancock street, Auburndale, reputedly the oldest Harvard alumnus, died today at his home in his 96th year. He was a member of the class of 1869.

Dr. Browne was a veteran missionary under the American board of commissioners for foreign missions and served 37 years in Turkey. Three daughters and three sons survive. His wife died in 1923.

A "Good Samaritan" was left stranded in a lonely section of Newton Highlands today after he had offered to drive a Newton autoist home because the latter was allegedly under the influence of liquor.

Newton police sent a cruising car to pick up the "Samaritan," Everett H. Hamblett of Fairway road, Brookline.

Meantime, they had arrested Joan J. Connelly, 40, of Needham street, Newton, charging him with drunkenness and drunken driving.

Hamblett told police: "My auto and Connelly's were in a minor collision in Brookline. He asked me to take the wheel of his car and drive him home."

"When we got into some woods in Newton Highlands, he put his hand in his pocket, as if he had a gun. He made me stop the car and get out. Then he left me."

"After a long walk, I found a house, woke the people there, and telephoned the police station."

Connelly, when arrested, told an incoherent story of being beaten and robbed. Police said. He was held in $300 bail.

First Lady, D. A. R. Aide in New Clash

Politely, but firmly, Mrs. Frank Leon Nason of Scituate, national registrar of the D. A. R., today challenged Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt on the latter's insistence that she stands officially resigned from the organization.

Dispatches from Los Angeles today stated that Mrs. Roosevelt had once more repeated the story of her resignation.

Mrs. Nason

"The resignation has not been received in any form. The possibility the message may have been delayed in transit is slight," Mrs. Roosevelt first announced her resignation nearly four weeks ago, after Marian Anderson, Negro contralto, had been barred from appearing at Washington's Constitution Hall.

A pointed question was leveled at the First Lady in a Los Angeles forum following her lecture last night.

"Do you intend to resign from the D. A. R.?"

"Yes, I have resigned from the D. A. R.," she was quoted as replying.

At the same time, in Boston, several persons, reputedly members of the Descendants of the American Revolution, organized by sympathizers of Mrs. Roosevelt, were shown out of an evening session of the Massachusetts Chapter, D. A. R., convention at the Copsey Plaza.

Just before announcement of speakers who lauded the stand of the organization to the full, officers at a banquet table observed a group sitting in the balcony. Credentials presented by the several men and women were declared "unsatisfactory," and they complied with the request to leave.

WRONG RIGHTED—After his car collided with truck and overturned, these husky lads came to aid of driver, Oscar Wasserman of Dorchester, and assisted in righting it. There were no casualties, but collision slowed downtown traffic for nearly an hour.

Deputy Chiefs Avert Quincy Fire Auto Crash

Coolness of two deputy chiefs of the Quincy fire department and skill of two department drivers narrowly averted a tragic accident today, when a broken steering knuckle threw Deputy Chief John O'Neill's auto squarely in the path of speeding Engine 2, in Newport avenue, Wollaston.

As Driver Joseph Maguire sought to keep Deputy Chief O'Neill's car from overturning, O'Neill and his companion, Deputy Chief Peter Creighton, leaped out opposite windows and motioned to Engine 2's driver, George Callahan, to swing his ponderous vehicle to the left.

He did so—and missed the deputy's wrecked sedan by inches. The sedan had skidded 250 feet.

The department was answering an alarm from Highland avenue Wollaston, where there was a chimney fire in the home of Charles B. Hall.

The scene of the near-crash was the same spot where Deputy Chief O'Neill was seriously injured in a collision several years ago.

Raps Governor's Picketing Claim

Governor Saltonstall's message to a legislative committee that there was "need" for clarification of the state's picketing laws was scored today by a representative of the Associated Industries of Massachusetts as "ambiguous."

George L. Barnes, counsel for the industrial organization and a prominent Republican, told the judiciary committee the only ambiguity or conflict in the laws was "in the mind of the man who prepared the statement."

He referred to a memorandum signed by Attorney Daniel J. Lynch, secretary and spokesman for the chief executive, which was sent to the committee yesterday by the governor.

Barnes said the memorandum contained a "clearly inaccurate quotation" from a United States Supreme Court decision on the right to distribute literature.

F. D. R. HAS NEW HEAD COLD

WASHINGTON, March 23 (AP)—President Roosevelt, suffering another slight head cold, was advised by his physician today to remain in his room for the better part of the day.

The President planned to go to his office, however, this afternoon to confer with Acting Secretary Welles and Assistant Secretary Sayre of the State Department.

The conference with Welles and Sayre was said to relate to efforts to dispose of the large cotton surplus.

The President recovered from an earlier cold in February just before going to the fleet maneuvers.

According to Kuzborski, Maloney boasted: "I let a beaut to at O'Neil's stomach and he bounched off the wall." Maloney allegedly made this statement after O'Neil had been put to bed, screaming, Kuzborski testified.

No defense testimony was offered.

One examination drew from Kuzborski an admission he reported to hospital officials he had "no personal knowledge" of how O'Neil was injured.

Maloney is a son of Police Chief John Maloney of Milford.

South End Woman Held on Dope Charge

After trailing a South End woman for several weeks, during which she made trips to New York by airplane, train and steamboat, Detectives Daniel F. Curran and John J. Booked at headquarters, she gave the name of Lillian McNeil, 52. Police said she was an important transporter of dope from New York to South End addicts.

CARDINAL DOUGHERTY HOME, ILL

NEW YORK, March 23 (INS)—Weakened by the strain of participation in the election of Pope Pius XII and subsequent coronation ceremonies, Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, archbishop of Philadelphia, returned today from Rome as ill that he was taken from the Italian liner Rex at quarantine and driven to Philadelphia in a police-escorted automobile.

Cardinal Dougherty had but one comment during the brief passage by tug from his ship to the Jersey City pier where an automobile awaited.

That came when he was asked what he thought of the current situation in Europe.

"I don't like it," he said.

Kennedy Son Gets Sacrament From Pope

VATICAN CITY, March 23 (INS)—Four days after his coronation Pope Pius XII celebrated a mass in his private chapel, during which His Holiness gave the first communion to young Edward Kennedy, son of the American ambassador to Great Britain, it was learned today.

The pontiff placed the sacred host on Edward's tongue and then gave communion to other members

ROW OVER STATE GAS TAX FUND

Gardner Auditorium in the State House seethed with excitement today as state representatives squabbled heatedly over a proposal to distribute $10,000,000 in gasoline tax funds to cities and towns toward offsetting a state tax increase.

Representative William B. Baker of Newton, urging distribution of the $10,000,000 over a two-year period, became irate when Representative Edward W. Staves of Southbridge charged the distribution would serve principally to aid wealthy Newton and Brookline.

The plan has been proposed by the legislative ways and means committee, and before that committee it was outlined by Baker.

CLASH OVER PROPOSAL

The proposal would double the amount suggested by Governor Saltonstall in his budget message.

Baker, vice-chairman of the ways and means committee which is hearing the governor's budget recommendations dealing with highway construction and handling of gasoline tax funds, was outlining the plan when Staves broke in with his denunciation.

Representative Baker replied: "I'm sick and tired of listening to the accusations that my proposal is drawn up for the purpose of aiding my own city and the neighboring town of Brookline."

"I don't want to hear that any more in this auditorium. The proposal, if you study it, will not give Newton and Brookline any more benefit than the small towns. It will help the latter."

This calmed Representative Staves very little, however, and he retorted:

"Even though, Mr. Representative, you say Newton and Brookline do not gain any benefits, the proposal still carries the inference and I say that the towns are going to get less."

The more than 600 jamming the auditorium clapped and cheered, while Chairman Arthur W. Hollis, senator and also from Newton, rapped for order, then threatened to halt the hearing.

FLEADS FOR TOWNS

C. Nelson Pratt, Essex county commissioner and former state representative, charged that "a certain group has been dominating the expenditures and distribution of the gas tax fund."

"Cities and towns like Newton and Brookline," he said, "don't need this added revenue, but little communities like we have in Essex county depend on it. It means jobs and serves to aid local merchants."

"Give this money to those who really need it."

Find Man Dead, Wife Overcome

Victims of carbon monoxide poisoning caused by a heater, Robert W. McPherson, 83, was found dead today in his Framingham home, with his wife, Louise, 78, unconscious in bed beside him.

Police and firemen revived the elderly woman and she was removed to Framingham-Union Hospital in a serious condition.

Robert W. McPherson, 34, 24, discovered the plight of his grandparents when he went to their bedroom to awaken them.

Renegade Rancher Slays Four, Deadly Gun Holds 100 at Bay

CODY, Wyo., March 23 (AP)—

A shaggy-maned renegade rancher who challenged pursuers to "have my head mounted and hang it up in the courthouse" repelled with savage gunfire today the efforts of 100 possemen to reach his canyon fortress.

Concealed in a clump of trees and boulders 400 feet up the side of Clarkfork Canon, Earl Durand, 26, shot down the only two men who dared to climb the slope. He had previously killed two other deputy sheriffs.

Eight picked sharpshooters started on horseback at daybreak today up Sunlight Valley, bent on reaching the crest of the 11,000-foot ridge that has protected the Tarzan slayer from a rear attack.

Sheriff Frank Blackburn of Park County said Bill Garlow, a grandson of W. F. (Buffalo Bill) Cody; Tom Knight, a brother of Nick Knight, famous rodeo star; and Mel Stonehouse, another rodeo rider, were among the men picked to make the rear attack.

Durand, a 6 foot 2-inch rancher-woodman with a taste for raw meat, instantly killed Arthur Argento of Meeteetse, Wyo., and Orville Linaberry of Cody, Wyo., when they came within 50 yards of his natural fortress at dusk last night.

Gunfire drove back an eight-man party that went out after dark to bring back the victims' bodies.

Sheriff Blackburn ordered possemen to stay clear of Durand's firing range the remainder of last night.

"It's suicide," he said.

A letter left from Durand to the sheriff, left at a ranch, stated:

"I know I am done for, and when you kill me have my head mounted and hang it up in the courthouse for the sake of law and order."

The letter bore as a return address:

"Undertaker's office, Powell, Wyo."

Sheriff Blackburn called Senator J. C. O'Mahoney of Wyoming at Washington last night asking him for authority to use an army trench mortar in blasting Durand from his turret-like fort.

Game Warden Boyd Bennion said Durand was eating a slab of raw meat when first arrested.

BATTLE CRY SOUNDED IN FIGHT ON 'ISMS'

Members of patriotic and church societies marshalled their forces today for the next move in the unending legislative battle to curb the inroads of the Communist, Fascist and Nazi groups in Massachusetts.

Men and women in every walk of life—alarmed by the progress of "isms" in this state—gave their pledge to attend legislative hearings tomorrow on the first of six bills framed on recommendation of the special commission investigations of subversive activities here.

The first bill to be heard is that of Representative Philip Sherman of Somerville, vice-chairman of the special investigating commission.

Under its terms, a division of citizenship would be established.

Duties of its director would be to inform the public of all subversive moves, and co-operate with other state departments in stamping out all unpatriotic activities.

Five other bills will be heard April 11. Two of them were filed by Representative Sherman and two by Representative Edward Stioia of Lawrence, another member of the special commission.

SEEKS ARMS BAN

The first of the three bills filed by Representative Stioia provides that no group or organization of persons, except the duly constituted police and military forces of the United States, the commonwealth, and its political subdivisions, chartered groups of veterans, who have been in the military service of the United States in time of war and who receive arms under state or federal authorization, school cadets, or sportsmen's clubs, whose members are individually licensed to carry firearms, shall be armed unless authorized by act of the legislature.

Stioia's second bill provides that whoever maliciously writes, publishes, or causes to be written, published or distributed, any writing, printing, sign, pictorial representation, or the like, intending thereby to impeach the honesty, virtue, reputation, character or patriotism of any race, intending thereby to expose such race to public hatred, contempt, ridicule or prejudice, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1000 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

FILES TRUE NAME BILL

The last bill, filed by Stioia provides that any person using a name other than his real name shall forthwith file with the clerk of the town or city in which he resides a certificate, under the penalties of perjury, stating his real name and address and the name or names which he has adopted or by which he is also otherwise known. Any non-resident coming within the Commonwealth shall forthwith file such a certificate with the clerk of the town or city in which he takes up a lodging or temporary residence.

The clerk shall keep a record of such certificate and an index of each name of such person. Violations shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment for not more than one year, or both.

Last night pleas for peace and understanding among men of all races and creeds were sounded at the second annual dinner of the Massachusetts committees of the

ATTENDING the banquet of the Conference of Christians and Jews here were Governor Francis P. Murphy of New Hampshire, left, Mayor Tobin of Boston, center, and Judge John P. Higgins of the Massachusetts Superior Court.

National Conference of Christians and Jews, held last night in the Chamber of Commerce building.

Pointing out that "we are fortunate to be far removed from the intolerance of Europe," Chief Justice John P. Higgins of the Massachusetts Superior Court struck the keynote of the meeting with the solemn warning that "if it should meet the purpose of those in power, persecution of Catholic and Protestant could easily result here. Therefore we must rededicate ourselves to respect the beliefs of others."

That theme was repeatedly sounded by a long list of prominent figures, including Gov. Francis P. Murphy of New Hampshire, Mayor Maurice J. Tobin, Rev. Michael J. Aherne, S. J., of Weston College, and Louis E. Kirstein, president of the Associated Jewish Philanthropies.

MAYOR TOBIN SPEAKS

Similar messages from President Roosevelt, U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York and Gov. William H. Vanderbit of Rhode Island were read.

"The Declaration of Independence guaranteed the right of free speech. The rights of religious freedom was guaranteed by the bill of rights," said Mayor Tobin. "This latter, amendment was fostered by a Catholic, Charles Carroll of Carrollton, Maryland, in 1789 and it has worked out well for America.

"What has happened over in Europe must never happen here. We must stand together united and firm."

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just mope and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or painful urination with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start organic backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, vertigo, goiters under the arms, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait. Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HUSH CASH DENIED BY RILEY

Springing a surprise, Charles H. McCue, counsel for the public utilities commission, today charged Frank E. Riley, deposed head of the state commercial vehicles division, with paying out $300 to avoid further disclosures in his ouster hearing.

The charge was made by McCue during his cross-examination of Riley before the board at the hearing, which now is nearing its close.

A flat denial was made by Riley. Originally, McCue had introduced testimony that Riley introduced John Minnihan of Somerville to "Richard Mason" at a Boston hotel and witnessed the sale of a state common carrier's permit from "Mason" to Minnihan for $400.

"Did you in September of 1937 bring George Tarella of Lawrence to a Boston hotel to introduce him to Mason?" McCue asked Riley today.

"No," replied Riley. Q—Do you know Tarella? A—I don't think I ever heard of him.

Q—Well tell me this—did you collect $300 from Tarella at the Lawrence police station about a year ago? A—Absolutely not.

Q—Do you remember meeting Tarella a week ago in the corridor here after the hearing and paying him back the $300. A—I certainly did not.

ENTER NEW FIELD—Congratulations of President Benjamin Stern, right, go to Jack Hoffman, manager of Summerfield Furniture Co.'s new wearing apparel and jewelry departments, for his management in conducting a successful grand opening.

Q—Then the only thing you had to do with the Mason permit was the time he sold it to Minnihan? A—That is correct.

As a result of this questioning, it was anticipated that McCue would call Tarella as a rebuttal witness.

Before questioning of Riley was completed he also denied that he received any part of a $1000 fee for legal services allegedly paid to Charles H. McGue, former chairman of the Democratic State Committee, in connection with a revoked permit.

"In closing, Mr. Riley," asked McCue, "will you say that you acted as an honest and industrious state employee."

"Yes," the ousted head answered.

SUMMERFIELD'S ADDS NEW LINES

An extensive expansion program has been climaxed by addition of complete apparel departments to the Summerfield stores in Boston, Waltham, Lawrence and Manchester, N. H.

By this addition to the Summerfield house furnishings lines, everything for everyone in the family can be obtained now under one roof.

Although the Summerfield firm has been expanding constantly for the past five years, this is the first time in the 27 years of the organization's history that anything so radically different has been undertaken.

Clothing and jewelry departments will be under the supervision of Charles Sugarman. These departments have separated from the home furnishings department.

Summerfield's general manager, Jesse Stern, states that a long study has evolved a sales plan that will insure real savings to customers.

Valuable gifts will be given to customers at formal opening of the new departments next Wednesday.

"Be Neighborly"

is a motto we learned off Pa Wilken!

It's as sure as sunrise that being friendly makes friends because look at all the friends we've got! Pa Wilken never got tired of telling us—"Make Our Family's Whiskey tasty and mild the way folks want it and be neighborly about the price." Judging from the hosts of friends we've got for our whiskey it was the best advice anybody ever had. We're using all the experience our family learned in 50 years to make Our Family Recipe as tasty and mild as the day is long. And the price surprises everybody!

BRINGING UP FATHER

HITLER IN MEMEL, HINTS HE'S DONE JOB

Just as it was a lesson to you," he added.

FOR COLDS
AND BODY BUILDING

How paid tribute to Dr. Ernst Neumeier, Nazi leader of Memel, who was chiefly responsible for the peaceful movement which led to the return of the territory back to German control.

Hitler, seated in the new room with a few friends. He expressed his appreciation for the help after 43 years.

SCORES OF OBJECTION

Thousands of Germans, it is estimated, are protesting against the decision of the Reichstag to return the territory of Memel to the Germans. The protest is being organized by a committee of German citizens.

For the first time in his career as an officer and "captured" of the Third Reich, Hitler carried out this particular through an ceremonial march of the German navy. It was the first time he had entered a newly acquired territory in this way.

Signs of eagerness reared on the day Hitler, as the sleek ship, the first, dropped anchor. A number of Hitler's aides, including Hermann Goering, chief of the German air force, were with him. He was expected to make sure that the territory was in readiness for his arrival.

Shortly before 5 o'clock the two boats dropped down up ahead of the main ship. It was headed by Hitler, Admiral General Erich Raeder, naval chief of staff. After the Interior Minister, Frick, and other Nazi officials, and a few whistles and cheers from the triumphal last leg to the wharves began.

Shows His Might
A naval parade of boats drew up on the embankment gave Hitler a stiff Nazi salute. He then entered the territory and drove into the city proper.

The naval display at Memel, however, was far less impressive than Germany's naval might. Some 100 boats, including the Reich's main battle ship, the battleship, and the main battle ship, were sent out to meet Hitler. The main battle ship, the main battle ship, was sent out to meet Hitler. The main battle ship, the main battle ship, was sent out to meet Hitler.

After Hitler's arrival, a series of speeches were given. A speech by the German ambassador, Dr. Frick, was the first. He spoke of the German people's joy at the return of Memel to the German Reich. He also spoke of the German people's joy at the return of Memel to the German Reich.

Fruit Salad Always Delights Your Guests

By MARTHA LEE

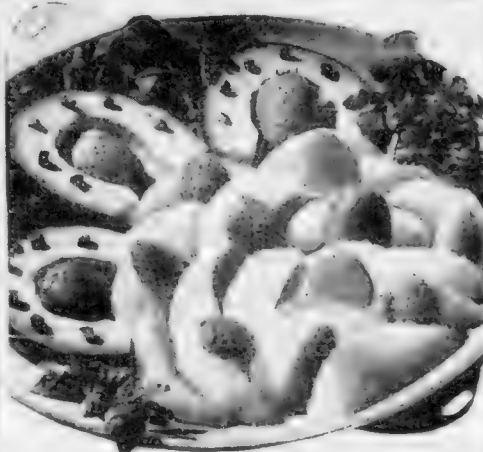

What is the most delightful of all foods? The answer is, of course, fruit. It is healthy, it is delicious, and it is a welcome addition to any meal. It is also a most attractive garnish for any dish.

At the present time, when the weather is so warm, it is especially desirable to have a fruit salad on the table. It is a refreshing and healthful dish, and it is also a most attractive one. It can be made in many different ways, and it can be served at any time.

The simplest and most delicious fruit salad is made with apples, oranges, and bananas. These fruits can be cut into small pieces and mixed together. They can also be served with a dressing of lemon juice and sugar.

Another delicious fruit salad is made with grapes, strawberries, and kiwis. These fruits can be cut into small pieces and mixed together. They can also be served with a dressing of lemon juice and sugar.

There are many other fruits that can be used in a fruit salad. Some of the most popular ones are apples, oranges, bananas, grapes, strawberries, kiwis, and peaches. Each fruit has its own special flavor, and they all make a delicious addition to any meal.

PLAY THIS SALAD RIGHT ACROSS THE BOARD and your hunch will prove a winner! It will be everybody's favorite after its first appearance—this Santa Anita salad of orange segments and strawberries with avocado horseshoes, a grown-in-California combination. Cut slices of unpeeled avocado to represent horseshoes and arrange on salad plate. Dot with pieces of ripe olive for nails. In center of each horseshoe place an unhulled strawberry. Orange segments and strawberry halves complete the salad plate. Garnish with watercress and serve with Cream Dressing.

For every table, this salad is a sure winner. It is a healthy and delicious dish, and it is also a most attractive one. It can be made in many different ways, and it can be served at any time.

Here's Kit For Easter Gift

By ARLINE GOULD

Just in time for you to hint to your current heart-throb comes the news of a so-marvelous beauty kit that will make a grand Easter bunny—and you can subtly suggest that it costs less than a corsage.

This kit is put out by a firm that concentrates on reproducing the kind of complexion that blooms in England. New years ago, for the way that English women wear clothes, but you just want to know that this kit will make you feel even after 50 years of age.

VARIETY, ROSY CHEEKS. Whether the draw complexion of Yorkshire roses and English roses comes from the sun, or from the look of English roses, is a debatable point. The point is, they have rosy cheeks, and a complexion that makes you feel even after 50 years of age.

This firm has achieved a great success in England, and for its integrity, its success in advertising and its success in producing a complexion that makes you feel even after 50 years of age.

The kit costs less than a corsage, and it will make you feel even after 50 years of age. It is a healthy and delicious dish, and it is also a most attractive one. It can be made in many different ways, and it can be served at any time.

NEW SHADE OF TOWDER. Incidentally they have a new shade of their lovely powder, deep pink, which is just what you need. It is a healthy and delicious dish, and it is also a most attractive one. It can be made in many different ways, and it can be served at any time.

Fashion Forecasts:

Many bustle and 1830 to 1860 long sleeved evening fashions were reproduced in the spring Paris shows, and are being reproduced here. Some of them have handsome trimmings of embroidered baste, lace-edged ruffles and such. This type of ruffling is being used in fashions and wrist flounces.

Bengaline is back in favor this season, especially in shades of orchid and rose. One stunning evening dress combines a fitted bodice of bengaline, with a matching jacket, and a very full skirt of matching tulle—the gypsy vogue has been taken up with great success by the designers of 'tween-age clothes; the style is particularly adaptable to the young girls' needs, and gives them that grown-up chic that they crave—from 7 to 14, the gay roman stripes, perky blouses with gay skirts and gay sashes, are just grand.

Business Girl Is Chic On a Modest Budget

By NATALIE VAN ULM
Fashionist, Gishrist Co.

No other girl is as consistently well dressed as the young American business girl. And dressing her so well, in her very modest clothes, is a character that stores meet with enthusiasm and approval. This spirit they have out of themselves.

If her clothes budget for spring is to exceed $15 and $20 she will find a deal in the A.L.'s of her wardrobe. She chooses a suit to be worn at Christchurch Hall, and with it wants a variety of sweaters and blouses to give her many changes with the one basic suit. For shoes for the winter, she wants amusing gaudies to put on her loped . . . they're very gay, very new, and inexpensive.

In the coat and the fitted coat with the white poplin skirt is the big news. But the straight young lady coat on the classic reder are still top favorites, and prove practical and smart for everyday wear. The lady coat with the dramatic wrap back is both new and young again.

A reduplate ensemble gives a wardrobe a lift. The point dress and vest coat combination leads a double life. The dress can be worn with either coats or jackets. . . . the coat can be worn over other frocks. The jacket or bolero dress is also tremendously important, for it gives the smart effect of a suit, and the dress can always be worn without the jacket when desired.

The skirt and blouse partnership is ruder to find this spring. A black skirt, paired or paired with a fine wool with a froth of white, improves blouse turns any girl into a special picture. With the waist a blouse or jacket in a bright color and she's something to look at admirably.

There are dramatic incidents in any person's life. Yours take to color the picture. Flowers grow everywhere . . . for little portland sailors are very engaging . . . and the stove pipe crown is very new and very ex-

Careful planning and wise shopping will turn the young business into a picture straight out of Harpers or Vogue. And although she may be as efficient as an income tax return, she'll look younger the longer and prettier and more feminine than ever.

The Costume Coat

It's a simple, no-knit steps-to-follow pattern to use. It makes a crown out of the crown itself. It's made of knit ribbed but goes well with any dress fabric.

JEWELRY SAYS IT

Jewelry Goes Gay In Colors

Costume jewelry this season is more important than ever. The new coats and the many unusual, even amusing, pieces to adorn a coat, frock, blouse or sweater, will attract you.

For example, there are luscious clusters of fruits in bright reds, greens and yellows that will add a sparkling sparkle to a dark coat or dress. They are of enamel, and in the softest light, exert no pull on the eye.

Floral pieces are deservedly popular. They show artistically wrought patterns of enamel in necklaces, clips and brooches.

Martha Sleeper's amusing figures in cape for legs should appeal to careful preferences. They vary with the Pygmalion jewelry in lips, tracilts and bar pins. Two woodpeckers busy at work on a log and two birds on either side of a Audubon are there are typical.

Lucky decorative for evening wear are Lady Mendl necklaces, bracelets and earrings. The necklaces and bracelets are formed of two rows of simulated pearls, with a row of brightly colored stones between and another row of simulated stones dangling. They would effectively complement a white, cream or beige-tinted evening dress.

 But of gold pins and necklaces, artistic or frankly sportsy clips to be worn in pairs and other pieces make it possible to add a pleasing note of adornment inexpensively.

 All are shown by a Boston department store.

A Call to Arms

It seems to be a 'co. to admit this season in houses. And the same is for long-sleeved houses particularly in evening dresses, also in the type.

A Shoulder Strap Bag Is Capacious

There's a lot of money in the business, says a top AIA executive. "We're a $1-billion-a-year industry," he says. "I would like to see a family with a child in architecture or interior design. A big part of the business is with the home. And the home is the place where you can make the most money. It's the place where you can make the most money."

A recent article in Life magazine reported on the new work about from Blingee and a few of his friends for his new Afro. I can't rely on that. The magazine is headquartered for Northern California. It is priced from $1 to $14. They have a complete stock of hair, hairpins, and available lengths and weights. And they insist, even though you get the Afro, that it's not a hairstyle like they did and will be.

And for example, can't find for $3.99 a pair of slippers in any of town. They range in price from $3.99 to $7.50. And if discouraged in your hunt for a becoming spring cheapeau, don't give up until you take a look or two at Morton's millinery. As a rule, you'd find only one of a kind, which is refreshing. And so, for the winter wardrobe, an especially delightful group of stockied white puree hats, a few slouches, including some turbans and high-crowned sailors.

You can't escape being confronted by little fur jackets this spring. And if you have to come for an interview, a church visit, as well as school, you must be greeted by the cute and cuddly. They come as low as $35.

We don't intend to sell any more, not even the pleasantly priced. This is where MacDonell's in Tempe, Fla., comes to the rescue. They have a new group of shorts with the most skin-tightening of them all. Size runs 28 to 34 and the cost is only $19.85. Imagine that.

There is no question about your success. At Tuttle's I saw how well they had been used to sell them to many types of hats. There was a high crown sailor, for example, with the veil competing for a cap of flower and ribbon trim. A tailored Homburg took in effect its cue by the veil perky bow I saw back and encircling the crown. Both were budget priced at $1.48.

The hair is cut very short and set in soft, loose curls like a Mercury. Unless one's hair is curly a permanent is required and in either case, the effect is all the glamour of Hollywood which Mr. DuBarry visits frequently for new ideas.

'LITTLE GIRL' A FABRICS TREND

There is every indication of a striking development in fabrics brought about by the "little girl" influence for actual little girl fashions this summer. Already there has been acceptance of lingerie cottons, favored in blouses of suits and as dress trimmings.

Spring Coat Fashions Are Utterly Feminine

By ELLIAN BECKETT
Student, E. H. White Co.

It has been exactly 10 years to date that the women we see in the fashion picture books of 1929 got the "look" of 1939. Just 10 years ago, though, the women were more "feminine" than they are now, and more of the feminine "look" was in the "look" of 1929. The "look" of 1929 was a "look" of femininity, and it was a "look" of femininity that was the "look" of 1939.

When a woman is "feminine" in her "look," she is "feminine" in her "look" of 1929. The "look" of 1929 was a "look" of femininity, and it was a "look" of femininity that was the "look" of 1939. The "look" of 1929 was a "look" of femininity, and it was a "look" of femininity that was the "look" of 1939.

When a woman is "feminine" in her "look," she is "feminine" in her "look" of 1929. The "look" of 1929 was a "look" of femininity, and it was a "look" of femininity that was the "look" of 1939. BOLD STROKES IN COLOR BLENDINGS

Color paints Fashion's palette with bold strokes. One or two combinations of two or three tones of the color, a palette of clear and pastel in place of the dusty shades of last summer contrasts of two or three opposing colors. The more vibrant, daring flash of last year, the more subtle and delicate for this year.

Smart Set Functions

By BETTY ALDEN

DEBS who have waltzed till dawn night after night at the season's most elaborate balls were almost spellbound with Edward Tamm's magnificent display of their favorite Viennese waltzes at the top of the season's fashionable. Morning Musicals yesterday at the Sheraton.

The girls are so accustomed to hearing the lilt of waltzes rendered by violins that it was a rare treat to hear the words, especially the selections from "Tales of the Vienna Woods."

Substituting for the orchestra the Boston School of Music patterned the program, returned from travels for and work for the first time. Mrs. Lillian Clark, who has covered a lot of ground since she last attended a musical, was joined by friends in a party which was the West Coast and Mexico.

Yesterday she sported a new and powerful appeal gun which she picked up in Los Angeles. It is made to resemble a little flashlight and will, it is said, enable her to see much of New England and the well on her own country, since that she could not resist returning it. One of the outstanding sights on her trip was the Golden Gate Exposition at night, which she thought very magnificent in the light of thousands of lights.

Right after the concert Mrs. John O'Day and her daughter, Irene, who returned from Palm Beach a week ago Sunday, boarded the afternoon train for New York to embark on another trip. This time it is to the West Indies. Completing the party was Mr. O'Day and the two youngest daughters, Mary and Ann, who are celebrating their spring vacation from school.

Irene's going away ceremony was a musical creation of white and with a violin accompaniment.

Ushers at Musicales After Court Appearance

FAITH KIDDER's early morning appointment with the judge of the Hoxbury court almost detained her from her ushering duties. But she was able to convince the law that she is a conservative driver at all times and made her court appearance. After a glimpse at Joanna Hoyt's debut in everyone asked her if she had been South. But she suggested it on a skating ball day in the mountains, from which she returned in time for the musicale and the Vincent show. She is very thrilled about having a new baby sister who has been named Anne Scabury, for her mother, the attractive Mrs. Joseph B. Hoyt, Jr. of Beverly Farms.

Mrs. John W. Myers celebrated her return from Palm Beach by wearing a cascade of beautiful orchids, and others in the throng of music lovers were Mrs. Austin Cheever, Mrs. Gordon Abbott, Jr. in an unusually chic outfit of black silk jersey, with a voluminous black wimple attached to a small scarlet turban. Additional modish touches to her costume were a large scarlet pouch bag and a jeweled rooster clip on the bodice of her dress. Crisp white pique collar and cuffs added an Easter Parade touch to Mrs. L. Gould Newell's smooth navy outfit, and her tiny white pique sailor was draped with a navy veil.

Socialites to Attend Dinner at Sheraton

EARLY DINNERS will be the fashion tonight as many prominent Hub socialites gather in congenial groups before going on to the opening of the Vincent revue or the opera.

One merry gathering will take place at the Hotel Sheraton, where plans will be discussed over after dinner coffee for the spring housewarming party to celebrate the hotel's reorganization. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Cameron Church will be guests, and their fellow diners will include Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Henderson, George B. Henderson, Baron and Baroness Krug von Nidda, Mr. and Mrs. Page Brown, Mr. and Mrs. George Bingham, Mrs. Benjamin A. G. Thorndike, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Terry, the S. Abbot Smiths and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Paine.

Music by two orchestras will entertain the guests. Unlike the gathering at the Sheraton the other night, when Morgan Harris put on a one-man show with his piano and singing selections.

Some hundred guests were celebrating the finale of the badminton tournament, and Mr. Harris' audience included Mrs. Frank Denis, the charming lady from Montreal who gave the first ladies' doubles cup; Mrs. Morgan Harris, Mr. and Mrs. William Faverham, Jr., Mary Whitmore, Boston's most expert feminine badminton player; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newbegin, Frances McElwain, who has just returned from a skiing sojourn at Sun Valley; Ellarone Petri, Junia Mason and Alice Bowlin, who carried off trophies in both the singles and doubles matches.

Proparvulis Fete Saturday

A bevy of pretty Proparvulis Club members will tussle through the Copley-Plaza ballroom a week from Saturday selling chances at the largest benefit of the year. The benefit is for the Catholic Charities Bureau.

Flora Tomasello heads the group, who includes Theresa Lynch, Elizabeth T. Dwyer, Mildred Noonan, E. Gertrude Guthrie, Jeann Crowley, Catherine Croke, Mary Bresnahan, Mary Doherty, Marguerite O'Leary, Minerva Flood, Marion Brighton and Marie Dean.

Others who do their bit by offering chances for the charity fund are Edna Barden, Gertrude Chisholm, Edna Marshall, Ann Black, Helen Prior, Gertrude Doonan, Alice Dunphy and Dorothy Higgins.

The parade of swank styles and luxurious furs has been arranged by Edna Abbiati, Marion Dwyer has chosen novel souvenirs for the occasion, and Mary Dockery has arranged the music program.

THREE MEN ON A BUDGET . . . QUIET, PLEASE

Whew!—When three city heads get together to cut down on a budget there's a lot of perspiring and inward cussin'. Here Budget Commissioner Francis X. Lang, left; Mayor Tobin, center, and Deputy Budget Commissioner John A. Sullivan bury themselves in a pile of grief. And the battle's going on for some time . . .

Hey!

When William Lyman, right, called a meeting of the "Lone White Front," pro-Nazi organization in Miami, Fla., he was attacked as shown here. A friend, center, attempts to save him.

IRENE DUNNE, CHARLES BOYER SHARE HONORS AT KEITH'S

Their 'Love Affair' Tops In Screen Entertainment

By HARRIS MORGAN

On the boat where they meet, Irene Dunne tells Charles Boyer how her dad in Kansas used to say:

"The things we like best in this world are always illegal, immoral or fattening."

Watching "Love Affair" on the Keith Memorial screen, you know right away Irene isn't going to have to worry about over weight. And she promptly walks out of the house Lee Remick who's quite a nice guy but one who gives girls charge accounts instead of wedding rings.

There's no crime angle in the picture, either—although there really ought to be a law against the way Boyer's aged and sweet-faced grandma gets under your skin in the scene where she plays the piano for him and Irene until a steamship whistle interrupts.

So, with illegal things and immoral things and fattening things—like too much confectionery—all eliminated there has to work out a philosophy of her own.

It's a philosophy Charles Boyer referred playfully seems to go for once he finds out about it long after being given a beautiful girl to correspond on the third floor of the Empire State building.

"Nearest place to Heaven, they call the red-tiles." But she doesn't keep it. Amusedly admitted interference.

Maybe she'll wait until some day. Maybe she won't. But it's one of the things Charles Boyer "mustn't know."

By this time, however, it's a one-woman man. That woman, Irene, and all the rest of it, the kind of the pastimes which have made him famous and set his sparkling in Irene's most precious possession.

And in the end she tells him smiling:

"If you can paint, I can walk. Anything can happen."

It's a see it twice picture. At you'll remember Irene's first name: "Sing My Heart."

You'll also like Irene's first name: "Sing My Heart." Irene's first name: "Sing My Heart." Irene's first name: "Sing My Heart."

MANAGER CRONIN TO USE OSTERMUELLER AGAINST B'S

Stengel Banks On Three Rookies

BRADENTON, Fla., March 23—The Red Sox will be out to make it two in a row over the Bees as the two Hub teams meet here today for the second time this spring.

In a last minute shift, Manager Joe Cronin decided to pitch Denny Galehouse, who has been out of the lineup for some time, against the Braves. Cronin also decided to use the new pitcher, Denny Galehouse, who has been out of the lineup for some time, against the Braves.

Puzzle to Cronin: Jake Wade Mickey Cochrane's favorite at Detroit, who hasn't been doing so well with Sox. He'll have to snap out of it, or else.

CINCINNATI, March 23 (AP)—

Boston has long been considered the best baseball city in the country and judging from the letters received from the thousands of fans on the ability of the Bees vs. Red Sox it's easily seen why.

I have watched their emotions in both parks for over 25 years and am of the opinion that each fan has his favorite player. That has much to do with his sentiments. It didn't take long for the real fans to jump on the ball.

Thousands of letters have poured in giving ones opinion on the ability of the local clubs. Just send them along to me. I, as sporting editor, am anxious to feel the pulse of Boston's fans on the subject.

Here's the opinion of three Bees fans.

As an ardent admirer of both the Bees and Red Sox, I see no reason why some people come to conclusions, in stating that the Sox display more color than the Bees. It is to be considered that the Bees are known as one of the weakest hitting teams in both leagues. "But!" Despite this fact it can't be denied that they didn't earn the position they ended up in last year, through colorful playing.

Also through the splendid display of mound duty, and Ole Casey's technique. "Why?" The old fighting spirit alone, demonstrates enough color to put anyone on edge, until the final out of a game! A very important thing to consider in comparing the two, is that the Sox are usually composed of purchased players who were known as somewhat of a star, such as: Fox, Grove, Higgins, Cramer and Chapman, etc.

But the Bees on the other hand had, and have to content themselves without any of these so-called stars and labor with the utmost of their abilities to succeed as one. Also, in my opinion, there is another point to be considered which is a disadvantage to the Bees in regards to their offensive punch.

That is the park, which is larger than that of the Sox. Therefore, at the Hive known as "A Pitchers' Paradise." It is somewhat more difficult to get home runs. As for the Sox, "Well!" They have a great advantage of the short left field wall where they win most of their games. So, in conclusion I say: "Put the Bees in Fenway Park and I guarantee that many opinions will be changed."

MR. JOSEPH FORZIO,

297 Maverick street, East Boston, Mass.

Dear Mr. Conway:

I read your column regularly, in fact, I never miss it. I would like to tell you my ideas about the Red Sox and the Bees. I am not a Bee or Red Sox fan, I am a Yankee fan. The Red Sox will never win any pennant this year or will the Bees. I agree with Mr. Clancy, ball-players can't go on forever. This applies to Joe Cronin, Jimmy Fox, Joe Vosmik and Doc Cramer, all veterans. What kind of reserves have the Sox got? They have none. Their catching is very weak and their pitching will not be any better because they added a few worn-out, battle-scarred pitchers. As for the Bees they ought to improve with the new material they acquired. Eddie Miller ought to help a lot. They have good pitching and two smart catchers in Al Lopez and Al Todd. I would stick with the Bees over the Red Sox any day. What would Fox, Cronin, Vosmik do if they had to play at National League Field? I hope this year the fans give some of their support to the Bees. Why be one-sided? Neither the Bees or Sox will win the pennant, so fans, don't get excited over what the papers say.

BOBBY L. MITCHELL,

9 Willow street, Hull, Mass.

I am a 15-year-old boy that thinks the Bees play a better game of ball than the Sox. Their defensive type pleases me the most. They value their runs and usually work hard to get them. They aren't fence busters by any means, but do occasionally hit homers and triples. Their pitching is usually good, and with added strength in batting, should give the other clubs a hard fight. On the other hand, the Sox have fence busters, they have stars in Cronin, Fox, Cramer, Vosmik and all, but in my opinion they haven't the teamwork the Bees have.

The Bees have a bunch of fine catchers this year, two able first basemen in Fletcher and Hassett, second well covered by reliable Tony, shortstop by the sensational rookie, Eddie Miller, who should be a great help, Johnny Hill and Garna will have to fight it out for the hot corner, and the pitching and outfield department strengthened by trades. I hope the Sox have the best of luck and think they have the players to do so, but I like a game with good pitching, little hitting and the winning run produced by a bunt or single or error in the closing innings like so many Bees' games end.

NORMAN DORIAN,

2 Oakland street, Natick, Mass.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Pete Reiser, a 19-year-old shortstop, who was born in St. Louis and once was in the Cardinal lineup, helped beat the St. Louis Cardinals with a three-run homer and two singles that led the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 6-4 victory.

Jockey Meade On Side Lines

TROPICAL PARK, Fla., March 23 (AP)—Don Meade, leading rider of the year, was suddenly taken ill and cancelled his mounts in the sixth, seventh and eighth races. Meade, after piloting J. A. Healey's False Point in the mile and a sixteenth race, fifth on the card, reported to the clerk of the scales that he was feeling ill and requested to be taken off the rest of his mounts.

Meade intends to quit riding at Tropical Park Friday and fly to New Orleans, where he will ride A. G. Barr's Coronado in the Louisiana Derby run there Sunday. Meade's illness is reported as nothing more than a "stomach ache."

collided in N. Y. Kerr was badly shaken up and his shoulder was painful this morning.

Now that Frankie Brimsek, Jack Crawford, Roy Conacher, Mel Hill and Red Hamill have engaged in one Stanley Cup elimination series play off game, they will feel more at ease in tonight and doubtless will turn in even better performances than they did in New York.

PLAYERS GET JITTERS

Stanley Cup competition produces the same type of jitters. Hockey rookies get that world's series tremble. All of the Bruin freshmen were more or less tightened up in Madison Square Garden. They realized the seriousness of their assignment. But they'll be O. K. tonight and from now on each Stanley Cup contest will be just another hockey game.

Manager Art Ross will open with the Kitchener line, Bobby Bauer, Herbie Schmidt and Woody Dumart, with Eddie Shore and Jack Crawford on the outer defense and Frankie Brimsek in the goals.

Lester Patrick will not make known his starting lineup until game time. However, due to the absence of Cecil Dillon, it's safe to predict that the Ranger manager will start Alex Shibicky and Neal and MacGillivray with Ott Heller and Babe Pratt protecting Dave Kerr.

Though they are by no means out in the clear as yet, the Bruins are expected to open up tonight. They took a long gamble in New York when they elected to play a defensive game, which is the type that Rangers are supposed to have

BRUINS SUPREME

Despite the fact that they resorted to a brand of hockey seldom used, the Bruins had a decided edge on Rangers. It looked from the stands as though they could have won by a decisive margin had they applied the "old power."

In the event that the game goes into overtime and neither team scores during the first 20 minutes of extra play, a new sheet of ice will be made before the players are ordered to return.

And, it should be called to the attention of the fans again that if the teams are tied at the end of the third regular period, it is "sudden death," the decision going to the team that scores.

The Bruins and Rangers will play the third game of their hectic series on Sunday night at the Boston Garden and then will return to New York for another Tuesday night's engagement at Madison Sq. Garden.

Lynn Awarded Champ Tilt

At a regular meeting of the N. E. A. A. U. boxing committee, it was decided to divide the N. E. A. A. U. junior boxing championships between Lynn and Lowell.

The Pioneer A. C. of Lynn was awarded the 118, 135, 160 and heavyweight contests to be held April 21 while the Knickerbocker Club of Lowell was given the 112, 126, 147 and 175 classes to be held either April 14 or April 21.

At the same time the committee voted to send the recent N. E. A. A. U. boxing title winners to the National A. A. U. championship bouts in San Francisco April 12, 13 and 14 with Gene Driscoll, chairman of the committee, to travel with the team as manager, and George Freeman, Irish-American promoter, as trainer.

The team which will leave on Friday, April 7, is: Anthony Peppi, 112; John Leonard, 118; John Farvin, 126; Al Dutra, 135; Al Priest, 147; Joe O'Donnell, 160; Pat Devine, 175; and Herbert Coonan, heavyweight.

THE PHANTOM

UNTOLD STORIES OF THE RING BY JACK CONWAY

(Copyright, 1939, by Boston Evening American and Jack Conway)

Max Schmeling gave only passing attention to Hammering Henry Armstrong's smashing 15-round victory over Barney Ross for the world's welterweight championship. He didn't realize at the time that Armstrong's victory would play an important part in his downfall in his world's championship bout with Joe Louis in the summer of 1938.

Armstrong had come from the Pacific Coast under the management of Eddie Mead and with the financial backing of Al Jolson to first win the world's featherweight championship, and then the world's welterweight title.

It wasn't only because Armstrong had won two titles, but rather the impressive manner in which he did so that captivated the public fancy. In the Ross fight, Armstrong swarmed all over the Chicago welterweight from the start of the bout and won easily. Hammering Henry tossed punches faster than bullets sputter from the mouth of a machine gun.

ARMSTRONG PLANS BOUT

Mike Jacobs wanted the money he would make from a Louis-Schmeling bout, but he also wished to see the "Brown Bomber" leave the ring champion.

In sheer desperation, Jacobs turned to Eddie Mead and Henry Armstrong.

"Louis has got the fighting tools to lick Schmeling if he will use them," Jacobs told Mead. "I wish you and Armstrong would wake Joe up so that he will toss punches from the opening gong. If he does, he will win. If Louis lets Schmeling take the fight away from him, I'll have to go back peddling tickets, and I like this tight racket better."

Mike gave Mead and Armstrong the use of his big town car, and they rushed to Pompton Lake, New Jersey. They found Louis dozing in his training quarters. They got the champion on his feet, and pepped him up with a fight talk.

"If I were as big as you, Joe, I'd knock out a dozen guys like Schmeling," said Armstrong. "You can do it if you go forward and toss punches like I did against Ross. These old fellows like to set their own pace, and when you hurry them you have them licked. Guess Schmeling must be old enough to be your father, Jo."

Mead and Armstrong remained at Louis' camp until he was ready to move into New York. It was then announced that Mead would be in the champion's corner.

"I'll put the whip to Joe at the opening bell, and he'll win before he hits the clubhouse turn," Mead told Mike Jacobs.

Walter St. Dennis, Jacobs' publicity man, gave Mike some real confidence when he picked Louis to win inside of three rounds. St. Dennis has been sniffing rosin at big fights for years, and is seldom wrong on a heavyweight battle.

"Louis has spring in his muscles and power in his punch," said St. Dennis.

Jimmy Braddock and Joe Gould also joined the "Stop Schmeling" movement.

"You should be a 40 to 1 shot to win," Braddock told Louis. "All you have to do is to use your natural fighting assets. No old-timer like Schmeling or myself can take you; best Sunday punch. Come out fighting at the opening gong and you'll blast Schmeling back into Hitler's lap inside of two rounds."

Armstrong and Braddock instilled into Louis the confidence he needed to win. They got out of Joe's head the thought he had once been knocked out by Schmeling.

PREDICTED QUICK WIN

"I am a better fighter than I was two years ago," Louis told me the day of the bout, "while Schmeling cannot be as good as when he knocked me out. Age is catching up on him."

I told Louis I didn't believe any heavyweight could fight much once he celebrated his 30th birthday.

"You may find Schmeling is only a hollow shell the first time you land a solid smash," I told Louis. "The show may be over inside of a round."

Louis grinned.

"Then I can play soft ball and see some major league ball games," said Joe good naturedly.

At heart Louis is still an unspooled boy. He does not take his own flaccid position seriously and is more interested in getting away and having wholesome amusement with those of his own age than he is in parading as the heavyweight champion of the world.

"Now go out and flatten him," were Eddie Mead's last words as he whipped Louis out of his corner.

Louis was back in his corner inside of the round with his job completed.

GALEATO SOFT TOUCH

I hope Tony Galeato does not think too much of what Louis did to Schmeling. If he does, he won't enjoy the beer he drinks between now and his June bout with the champion.

Galeato to Louis is just another heavyweight challenger he must knock out. This time Joe will not require the assistance of Henry Armstrong, Jimmy Braddock or anybody else to plan his battle for him. Louis has arrived as a great champion, and should keep belting over the opposition for the next four or five years.

Louis has more to fear from luxury and easy living than he has from any of the heavyweight contenders he will be called upon to meet.

It would take a Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney or Jack Sharkey to give Louis a real fight, and there isn't that kind of opponent around. Maybe Louis will still think he is playing soft ball as he continues to successfully defend his world's title against all-comers.

Worcester Five, Boston Club Meet

Two of the keenest rivals in Boys' Club basketball circles will clash Saturday when the powerful Worcester quintet and the Boston five meet in their annual game at the Eben D. Jordan Memorial Gymnasium, Charlestown.

Worcester, a high-gained aggregation and winners of last year's New England Boys' Club Championships, and favored to repeat again this year, have literally overwhelmed all opposition this year, having but recently defeated one of the branches of the local club by more than 30 points.

LAS CALL ISSUED FOR N. E. BOWLERS TO ENTER

New Prizes Attract Pin Fans

By WALTER KILEY

A wonderful new array of prize awards was today forthcoming to bolster the many now on hand for the Boston Evening American-Daily Record candlepin championships, which get under way at the Huntington Club on Saturday.

Brunswick Balke-Collender Company, Inc. was the donor. This nationally known manufacturer of billiard and bowling equipment sent along two dozen sets of De-Luxe candlepin balls and carrying bags, offerings which were acclaimed from the many recipients the past two seasons.

These Brunswick Balke-Collender sets, which are so valued by the good bowler who likes to know that he rolls with the best equipment, add to the lists already large with the Gruen Precision wrist watches, the several offerings of Washington Jewelry Company, with its Toast-master Emerson Radio and Remington-Rand electric shaver; Colonial Provision Company with its hundreds of pounds of Master smoked hams and shoulders; New England Doll and Novelty Company, with its Rolls candid cameras; Horace Partridge Company, with its official bowling shoes; The Lohrle Club of Huntington avenue, with its daily pair of dinners, and ever so many other attractive awards.

Entries close tomorrow. The official blank appears today and tomorrow in both the American and Record. It will be the one last chance to beat the deadline.

It is impossible to mention but a few of the recent entries. But they're filed away by the countless hundreds.

Among them and taken at random is the Dover Five of the Bowldway Alleys, Dover, N. H.; Evelyn Maguire, Elizabeth Sterling, Ida Kern and Pauline Hendrickson of Portland, Maine.

Edward Barry of the Army-Navy Y. M. C. A. of Newport, R. I. sends in his team. Mike DeCarlo of the Rockingham Alleys, Springfield, files several open and amateur lots.

Miss M. Elsie Hollis, amateur singles champion two years ago and doubles champion with Vera Roberts a season back, returns for the third year with a group entered in singles, doubles and teams, the latter unit being Hilda Walker, Ethel Payne, B. Hollis, Marjorie Grundy and Miss Hollis, all from Lawrence.

Cliff Box of Randolph enters a strong men's team. Ted Landry of East Pepperell enters a team headed by himself, with Speed Bemis, Bowse Crowley, Bill Drum and Val Duda.

SYRIAN TEAM TO ROLL

The Syrian Five of the Bowldway Alleys of Dover, N. H., depend on Emil Shaheen, Ray Simon, Hop George, Joe George and Joe Coleli. Santo Lanin is captain of the Hill-side Cafe Five of Fitchburg with John Fava, Bill Craigen, Jack Larocche and Andy Chechin.

From Keene, N. H., comes the Ferdinand Bulls, Charles Trask, Clinton Mason, Floyd Keough, Gordon Bemis and Henry Bent. Kray's Clothiers of Amesbury files a team of Hills, Brown, Bryant, Evans, Dugdale and Krikorian.

Merrimack Hat Company of Amesbury enters a team of Titcomb, Sargent, Noyes, Whitney, Rubino and Whelpley. From the Washington Square Alleys, Newport, R. I., comes a team of Tony and Joe Lawrence, Leonie DeStis, Johnny Hattup, Danny Fitzgerald and Eddie Lawrence.

The Cedar Grove Bowling Alleys champs of Dorchester are in with a team of Leo Costa, Charles Heinen, William Murray, George Rogers and Charles Harrington. F. Parchesky of Medway is captain of a strong team. From Roslindale comes the team comprising Joe Mencia, Allan Murray, Frank McEniffe, Jean Erickson.

Here's Alice Doyle, who shared women's double championship last year in Hearst Bowling Tournament. She's going to win again this year, she insists. Miss Doyle for many years has been one of the foremost women bowlers of Massachusetts.

Cards Question Mark in N. L. Race

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 23 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, always a hard team to figure out, are living up to their reputation. They can't be figured out of the pennant race this year despite the fact they are a walking quiz contest and have a skipper fresh up from the minors.

Ray Blades was dropped into the Red Bird nest from Rochester to succeed Frankie Frisch, and, like a man with a new zipper suit, he won't know just what to think of it until he finds out how the gadgets work.

Right now he's more or less winding up shopping to see what he needs.

"They tell me I'm weak around second base," he opined, "and from my observation that's right. Pitchers? Anybody can always use a few good pitchers."

The general idea among Cardinal followers is that the club will be stronger than the one which finished runner-up for fifth place last year.

BANKING ON VETS

If there's the old standby again — if young pitchers who show promise come through; if something can be done to bolster second base and shortstop, and if some of the older arms on the mound stand the wear and tear, the team will be in the thick of the pennant fight. If some of these "ifs" work out, the Cards can reserve a room with bath in the second division.

Blades has one advantage in stepping up from the minors to the majors. Several of the youngsters he directed at Rochester and Columbus have been sent up to the Cards and he knows what they can do and whether they are playing up to their capabilities.

KILLEFER HELPS

Bill Killefer at Sacramento also gave him a break in sending him the lads who perform like major leaguers right now. They are Herman Franks, who has been looking fine behind the bat; Joe Oregno, who may wind up with the short-stop job; and Elvin Adams, an outfielder who undoubtedly will stick.

Record Entry For Hearst Shoot

NEW YORK, March 23—The seventeenth annual National R. O. T. C. shoot for the William Randolph Hearst trophies has the largest number of teams that have ever been entered for this interscholastic event.

The number of teams has increased annually until there are 646, representing universities, colleges, military academies and high schools all over the United States, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

For the 1939 official match the record firing began on January 14 and closes on March 22. All the completed official targets for the match are certified and forwarded to the commanding general of the corps area in which the firing took place.

After the targets are checked and scored at the corps area headquarters, the results are then forwarded immediately to the chief of infantry in Washington, D. C., and to his office the national champions are selected.

There is a national championship team in each division, i. e., one for colleges and universities, one for military academies and one for high schools.

A separate match is conducted for naval R. O. T. C. teams, and this division also has the largest number of teams ever to be enrolled. A total of 14 naval R. O. T. C. teams is competing.

Out of the Shadow—A picture of valiant motherhood . . . Mrs. Helen Steele and daughter, Dorothy, of Cambridge. Valiantly, Mrs. Steele offered her life for her children . . . tossed them aside as an auto bore down, herself dreadfully crushed. Valiantly, she passed through the dark valley for many weeks . . . and, now, she lives . . . valiantly.
